WILSON TO BE GRANTED POWER TO USE FORCES.
Finds Leaders of Congress Ready to Accede to Most of His Wishes.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—There will be no serious trouble between President Wilson and Congress respecting the authorizing of the former's desires in order to meet the emergency of the coming month. This is the opinion of the leaders of Congress, who are now in session in the Capitol. The President's wishes are being met, and the leaders of Congress are ready to accede to most of his wishes.

SECRET INSTRUCTIONS.
The British government apparently has given secret instructions to its submarines not to attack American ships. By this course it has hoped to avoid war. But American citizens have been killed and the lives of others have been put in jeopardy by the submarine operations. These various cases are having an important influence upon the President's determination. Moreover, the President has been informed of the facts relating to the German submarine blockade. He knows the way this blockade is operating, how it is preventing the export of goods from the United States, and how it is thereby reacting upon the life of the country and how the ports are being closed. The President also is waiting to receive news of the decision of the British government. If that government announces its purpose to support the German submarine policy, the President will issue a proclamation to the members of the Austro-Hungarian Empire and recall Mr. Penfield. Upon receipt of information from Vienna he will be in a position to advise Congress of the action forced upon him.

The President has never had any intention of going off half-cocked. He believed it was his duty to be patient, to wait a situation which the country would recognize as justifying action. He and his advisers have rejected a great deal of talk.

OWN GUN KILLS EDWIN GOULD, JR.
GRANDSON OF FINANCIER DIES IN HUNTING ACCIDENT.

Young Man Struck at Once with His Gun and Receives Charge in His Own Body—Companion Rides Two Miles to Secure Help. Was 28 Years Old.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BRUNSWICK (Ga.) Feb. 25.—Edwin Gould, Jr., son of the New York capitalist, was accidentally killed while hunting near Jekyll Island last night.

Mr. Gould was hunting coons. He struck a coon on the head with the butt of his gun and the weapon was discharged, fatally wounding him. His companion had to row two miles in a small boat for help.

Gould and Noyes Reynolds of New York had been out on their traps late yesterday, intending to spend the night hunting coons, traps for which had been set in many parts of the Hammock. A Gould game preserve about two miles from Jekyll Island. After midnight, some time after the island Gould and Reynolds came upon one of the traps, which was a coon trap, and were struggling, held fast by the foot.

Many sportsmen would have shot the coon dead, but Gould, it was said, followed the custom of natives, who kill trapped animals with a club in order not to injure the hide.

He struck the coon across the head with his gun, holding the barrel in his hands. The second blow was followed by discharge of the gun, which was loaded with birdshot. Reynolds rushed to Gould's side and found him mortally hurt. Death came in a few moments.

Persons here familiar with Gould's method of hunting say he was accustomed to carry his gun cocked. He used a hammer gun in preference to the hammerless.

BODY EN ROUTE HOME.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Edwin Gould received a message tonight from her husband informing her that he was bringing home the body of his son. Mr. Gould, who had been hunting near Jekyll Island about a month ago. He was joined there last week by his father and Col. Nelson Burr. Mrs. Gould, who had been detained here by the illness of her mother, expected to join the members of her family at the island within a few days.

Edwin Gould, Jr., who was 28 years old, was a grandson of the late Jay Gould.

The Foremost Events of Yesterday: (1) Germans on Dutch Frontier. (2) Additional Ground Captured by British. (3) Legislature Convenes Today. (4) More Lives in Floods. (5) Wilson's Plans for Congress. (6) Mexico. (7) Food Outlook.

INDEX.
MEXICO. Mexico has increased the export duties on crude oil.
The Mexicans are constructing a munitions factory with Japanese help, the machinery being unloaded at Manzanillo.
Several Mexicans have been arrested for the Mexican murder.
FOREIGN. The Cuban rebels are reported to have retreated from Canagary.
Good times hit the Philippines as American capital and brains further development work.
THE GREAT WAR. The Situation in Dardanelles: Three British steamers of gross tonnage of 8200 victims of submarines.
British gain ground in fighting along the Tigris River, taking a long line of trenches.
Austrian infantry attacks are reported at several points in the Austro-Italian theater of war.
Small battles are reported in Rumania.
COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.
The British troops in the Ancre region of France are reported by the London War Office to have taken additional ground from the Germans, including the village of Serre and several important points farther east. In these operations although they were carried on over a wide front, only small bodies of troops were engaged and only slight opposition was met, but they are indicative of the plan of the British to continue their steady raiding in preparation for the more extensive movement in the spring. Another raid was carried by the British east of Ypres, Belgium, dealing on a front of 500 yards the British entered the German trenches inflicting heavy casualties on the occupants, destroyed dugouts and other works and took fifty-five prisoners. The German work Ypres continued on the remainder of the front held by the French. Isolated battles have taken place in the Carpathians, but neither of the belligerents have obtained any advantage. Small engagements also have been fought in Rumania, but the situation there remains unchanged.
The Mexicans are reported to be conducting a large munitions plant with the aid of the Japanese, who have sent a number of experts to supervise the work. Reports current that Salazar is contemplating an attack on Juarez are denied in some quarters and affirmed elsewhere.
WASHINGTON. Congress finds it a matter of some importance to be found on the first page of the paper and then read the entire paper and then read the entire paper.

NOBODY IS GOING TO STARVE, ASSERTS NEW YORK GOVERNOR.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—"Nobody is going to starve," asserted Governor Miller tonight, in a speech before the New York State Legislature, in response to a resolution passed by the body last night, that the governor should take steps to prevent the possibility of food shortages.

The governor said that the state had a large stockpile of food, and that the people would be able to get what they needed. He said that the state had a large stockpile of food, and that the people would be able to get what they needed.

President Faces Second Inaugural Oath Next Sunday with International and Domestic Situations Far More Serious than Those that Confronted Him Four Years Ago—Has Fears for Future.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—President Wilson will enter on his second term as President of the United States on Sunday next. He will be forced to deal with a far more complicated situation than he confronted when he took the oath of office in 1913. Then he faced a revolution in Mexico, a dispute with Great Britain over the Panama Canal toll question, and a sharp controversy with Japan over the discrimination exercised by California and other far western states against Japanese subjects. He settled the revolution in Mexico, by conceding the right demanded by the British government, doing so, as he explained at the time, because of the necessity of having a friend in Europe. The Japanese controversy, which at one time threatened American peace and still is a serious irritation in the relations of the two nations.

TO TAX STORED FOOD TO STOP HOARDING.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—The assessment for taxation purposes at market prices of all food held in the city's cold storage warehouses was suggested last night by Supervisor Edward I. Nolan as a practical method of testing the declaration of the local produce men that no great stocks of food products were being held, and that high food prices were the result of a genuine shortage produced by a heavy eastern demand. Nolan said he would introduce a resolution in the Board of Supervisors Monday, directing the assessors to apply this test. Nolan said tonight he had information to the effect that many of the large cold storage warehouses were packed to capacity with products that are being sold at high prices on the plea that the supply is limited. The resolution he has prepared, directs the assessors to put his entire force upon the work of assessing the contents of all warehouses in San Francisco and to place the present market price upon said commodities as being their full cash value.

ADAMS EXPRESS COMES HERE.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Through a contract signed today with the Western Pacific Railroad Company, the Adams Express Company has the first time gains an entrance into California. The service becomes operative July 1, it was announced, and on September 1 the Adams Company will supply the Western Pacific Company on the Denver and Rio Grande lines.

BRITISH REPORT GAINS DUE TO ARTILLERY WORK.
Attribute Recent Successes Wherein Gen. Haig has Taken Five Miles of Trenches and Two Villages to Superiority of New Tactics and Munitions—Big Gun Preparation Clears Out All Enemy Forces.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LONDON, Feb. 25.—The British have won the village of Serre, an important link in the German defense west of Bapaume, and several other positions to the east. Gen. Haig's account of this new success north of the Ancre is pitched in the same minor key as his report of the British victory last night in the same sector.

"During the past twenty-four hours," reads his statement, "the enemy continued to yield ground along the Ancre. Meeting with little opposition, small bodies of our troops pushed forward on a wide front, occupying Serre village and several other important points from the east."

CHANGES IMPORTANT.
The announcement and the developments in the military situation on the western front, which it recounts, are of the highest importance. The native Scotch caution of the British leader makes light of the fresh victories, but more complete accounts put the operations in a vastly different light.

The essential feature lies in the fact that throughout the purely artillery actions, the British guns have absolutely dominated those of the Germans. "Meeting with little opposition," states Haig. "That means nothing else than the overwhelming superiority of the British artillery at the present moment."

Yesterday the British infantry took up the attack along the Ancre after an artillery duel lasting several days. The British guns have concentrated their fire on the enemy's position south of Serre and south of Beaumont, the two bastions in the German line of defense. They occupied the new ground almost without opposition. The German guns had been put out of business. The troops of Prince Rupprecht found it impossible to hold their line and they evacuated their position. This fact is attested by Gen. Haig's statement that in the last attack on Serre, only small bodies of our troops were required to carry out the operations.

NEW TACTICS SUCCEEDED.
The two new successes in which the Germans have lost two important villages and nearly five miles of trench, constitute a triumph for Haig's new tactics. The dominating artillery of the British is accomplishing what the costly frontal attacks of the infantry accomplished before and the objects of the British drive are being achieved with minimum loss.

Prince Rupprecht is known to have prided himself on the impregnability of the fortification of Serre and Miraumont, yet the British troops yesterday and today waded through them. That an opposition, certainly without opposition worthy the name. The German

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Feb. 25.—From Dutch sources the Reuters Telegram Company learns that it was the submarine U-5 which attacked all seven Dutch steamers Thursday. Three German sailors boarded the other four and placed bombs that were exploded.

GERMANY EXPLAINS.
(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
THE HAGUE, Feb. 25.—The statement issued yesterday by the German Legation here to the effect that the torpedoing of the seven Dutch merchantmen was due to an extremely regrettable coincidence of circumstances which is unfortunate but "was beyond our control," contains an explanation, made, it says, to prevent erroneous impressions. It states that in view of the situation of Dutch vessels in English waters the sailing time for which was first fixed for February 5, then for February 8, and then for mid-night of February 10. Finally, "for reasons for which England was to be blamed," the sailing date was postponed to February 21 or March 1. The only date of sailing for which absolute safety from submarines could be guaranteed was March 17, the statement says, and by that time all German submarines would have possessed instructions in regard to the vessels. Even then safety from mines could not be guaranteed, the statement says, and that the danger zone had been mined extensively.

For the same reasons the statement says until March 5 relative security, meaning safety dependent on good fortune, will apply to the char-

TEXAN VENTS SPLEEN ON WILSON AND SHERMAN.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BOSTON, Feb. 25.—Opposing a declaration of war against Germany, Congressman Oscar Callaway of Texas at a mass meeting today criticized the American soldier as a victor of civilized laws.

"The army never acts in accordance with the law," he said. "Do you remember Sherman's march to the sea, when he burned Atlanta, and violated every law of civilization? His answer to critics was, 'War is hell.'"

"If we go into war now, our soldiers will act as they always have acted since there were any soldiers. Soldiers are trained to kill people." Declaration of war against Germany, he said, would be "like a hanging where everyone in the mob wished to get a whack at the victim. Of course," he continued, "an

VILLISTAS RAID CHIHUAHUA TOWN.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
JUAREZ (Mex.), Feb. 25.—Passengers arriving here tonight from Chihuahua city brought the first news of a raid on the town of Chihuahua, thirty miles northeast of the state capital, Friday.

One hundred troops dashed into the little town, surprising the Carranza garrison of thirty-two. After looting the stores and railroad station, the Villa followers departed leaving two of their dead behind, the passengers said. The fate of the Carranza garrison was not known when the train left for the border.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BALTIMORE, Feb. 25.—The Rev. C. S. On one portion of the British front, at least, the war today became a war of movement. Under cover of fog and mist, which have been particularly heavy in the past forty-eight hours, the Germans carried out the greatest retirement they have made on the western front in the last two years. The British have swept into possession of Fyfe, Sarre, Miramont and Petit Miramont, including the battle of the Somme, which has been the scene of some of the fiercest fighting of the war and in places is deep with the bones of dead men.

GERMANS YIELD GROUND.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Feb. 25 (via London, Feb. 24, 12:15 a.m.). On one portion of the British front, at least, the war today became a war of movement. Under cover of fog and mist, which have been particularly heavy in the past forty-eight hours, the Germans carried out the greatest retirement they have made on the western front in the last two years. The British have swept into possession of Fyfe, Sarre, Miramont and Petit Miramont, including the battle of the Somme, which has been the scene of some of the fiercest fighting of the war and in places is deep with the bones of dead men.

Wreck Trenches and Move Back to Position Long Defended.

There were bursts of machine gun fire from German positions, but the British were not driven back. The British have swept into possession of Fyfe, Sarre, Miramont and Petit Miramont, including the battle of the Somme, which has been the scene of some of the fiercest fighting of the war and in places is deep with the bones of dead men.

WORK GREAT.

When the majority over the 180,000 appropriation bill in the Senate against revenue legislation taken last night, after one of the most tempestuous sessions of recent years, the prospect is that Congress tomorrow will enter on the last week of its official existence, but facing extraordinary legislation.

THE CITY

AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

For Pennsylvania.
The Pennsylvania Society will hold a meeting tomorrow evening in the Federal Brotherhood Hall, No. 845 South Figueroa street. A playlet will be presented and there will also be music and dancing.

Physician attending Willis D. Longyear, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, who is ill with pneumonia at his residence, No. 845 Ardmore avenue, last night reported the patient better. The crisis is reported past.

On Heligoland.
Prof. Melville Doster will speak before the Aeronautical Society in the Los Angeles High School auditorium, tomorrow evening, on "The German Helicopter as a Scourge of the Future." This is the largest number of lectures that there will be in any one year between now and 1918.

For the first time since the establishment of the department of Journalism at the University of Southern California, two courses in newspaper work will be offered during the coming summer session. Prof. Ernest J. Hopkins will give a course in "News and Journalism," and one on "The Newspaper as a Social Force." The summer session will begin on July 2, and close August 11.

On Health Subjects.
The first programme on health subjects, under the auspices of the School Hygiene Association, will be given at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the auditorium of Normal High Center. The programme follows: "A Talk on Child Psychology," Dr. C. W. Wadell, State Normal School; "Application of Findings," Dr. Laura B. Bennett, school health department; "Present Methods of Treating the Exceptional Child," Dr. Grace M. Fernald, State Normal School; and "Should the Clinical Psychologist Have a Medical Training?" Dr. Ernest B. Hoag, medical adviser, Juvenile Court.

At Branch Libraries.
Granville Barker programmes will be staged at the various branch libraries of the city during the week in honor of the visit of that noted playwright and producer. Friday, Tolson branch library, at the Arroyo Seco branch library, Mrs. C. J. Warner will read "The Voyage Inheritance," one of his best-known works, while tomorrow Miss Bertha Wilcox will read "Truella" in the auditorium of the branch library at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Benjamin Goldman of the Friday Morning Club will read "Fate," another of Barker's weird works, at the Boyle Heights library at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Romaine Fule will read "Truella" in the auditorium of the Vermont-square library on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, and Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. G. H. Gave, first vice-president of the Drama League, will read "The Madone" at the Central library at 8 o'clock.

POLICE TAKE HAND IN POKER PARTY.

WILY PARTIES LEARN THEIR NEW TRICK IN GAME.

Members of Metropolitan Squad First Win the Chips of Players, Who Pretend It's a "Freemason" Game for Fun Only, Then Arrest Five.

E. H. Parks held three kings. James Allen held three aces. Stockhart held three fives and a stranger, who later proved to be Detective Longuevan of the Metropolitan squad, held a seven full. A second stranger, rather stockily built, stood behind the first and watched the poker game, which was progressing at No. 217 South Figueroa street. Frank Smith and Arthur James had passed their hands. Stockhart was banker and he explained to the two strangers how they avoided arrest; should detectives find the house. "We never put any money on the table," said Stockhart, genially, "and when the cops come around we tell 'em we're playing freemason."

Parks opened the pot for five chips; Allen stayed; Stockhart raised ten chips. The stranger looked around the table and raised Stockhart ten chips. "Getting interesting, gentlemen," suggested the second stranger. "Very," answered Stockhart. He called the pot. The stranger, who showed his full house, "Very good hand," said Stockhart and threw his cards on the table. There was a scraping of chairs and a general chorus of "Well, I guess it's time to break up," when the second stranger spoke. "Wait a minute, boys," said he. "I have the best hand in the bunch." He laid his detective's star on the table and the first stranger (Detective Longuevan) began to search his fellow poker players for weapons, settled the five men were booked at the Central Station and freed on $10 bail each.

CHURCH WORKER TAKEN.

Widow of Early-day Pastor Answers Last Summons.

Mrs. Nancy A. Updyke, widow of the late Rev. Stephen G. Updyke, passed away early yesterday morning at the family residence at No. 1518 Crenshaw boulevard. She was born at Quincy, Mich., and was nearly 73 years of age.

In 1886 Rev. and Mrs. Updyke removed from Michigan and settled at Watertown, Dakota Territory, where for six years Mrs. Updyke shared with her husband the work of establishing a Congregational church. Mrs. Updyke was an ardent church worker and was actively interested in the social life of the pioneer community. She later lived at Brookings and Aberdeen, S. D., and at Minneapolis, Minn. Her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Bacon, a daughter, lived in Pueblo, Colo. Dr. Robert F. Updyke, son, is a dentist at South Pasadena, and Stephen G. Updyke, a son, is a mining man with office in Los Angeles.

The funeral will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, probably at the First Congregational Church. Arrangements are in charge of Eresco brothers.

SAVAGE TUG LOST AT SEA.

Word Comes from Guatemala of the Disaster.

Engaged in Getting German Boat off Shoreland.
Storm Rages Five Days, then Boat Goes Down.

(BY DEWITT WARD—REUTERS DISPATCH.)
SAN DIEGO, Feb. 25.—Reports were received here today from Salina Cruz that the British Columbia Salvage Company's tug Pilot, which has been attempting to salvage the German freighter Seacat at Ocosingo, Guatemala, foundered off the Guatemala coast with the loss of all hands.

The Pilot left San Diego July 30, and has been working ever since on the big wreck. She steamed from Salina Cruz for Ocosingo on the morning of February 1 and a heavy gale began blowing within a few hours. The gale raged for five days and when at the end of that time the tug had been wrecked off the coast, which should have reached Ocosingo in thirty-six hours, the seagoing dredge Mexico, was dispatched from Salina Cruz to search for her. The Mexico searched for ten days and returned to port without finding the Pilot. Capt. F. C. Stratford, chief salvage officer, and Capt. R. Ridley of the Pilot were not aboard the craft at the time it is reported, when she foundered, as they remained with the Seacat at Ocosingo. The crew is reported lost with the tug. The Pilot had been wrecked off the coast of Guatemala, where she was engaged to get a consignment of rubber and supplies to continue the salvage work.

Sydney Smith, secretary of the Western Lumber Company, received a letter from Capt. Ridley October 10, in which he stated that the Pilot, in which Ridley told of the difficulties attending the floating of the big freighter, would have that day through the surf. The Seacat was grounded four years ago on a reef where, owing to the shifting of the sands, within less than twenty-four hours she was left high on the beach. The heavy waves of the storm drove her onto the beach and she was left high on the beach. The plan of the British Columbia was to build a canal around her and float her out under her own power. Owing to the great value of tonnage at present, it was said to be worth while to try to recover the freighter, which is said to be in good condition.

FRESH TOMATOES.
There were 458 crates of fresh tomatoes, 127 crates of sweet potatoes, and crates of panocha, which arrived here today on the schooner Caterina from San Jose de Cabo, Lower California, to be shipped to Los Angeles. The Caterina reports that the vegetable crop near La Paz and San Jose de Cabo is the largest in years. Most of the crop will be shipped here and to Los Angeles.

INVITED TO GO EAST.

Mrs. Vernon V. Rood, chairman of the woman's party for the Eleventh Congress District of California, has been chosen by the National Woman's party for special recognition. A call has been sent out by the party to all women, especially those who have the franchise, to assemble in Washington March 2, 3, 4, and 5. They will, with the Congressional Union, will hold a convention to determine on their future action. They are planned to surround the White House in silent protest against the President's attitude toward national woman suffrage.

Mrs. Rood has been asked by Ann Martin, chairman of the National Woman's party to be one of a delegation of representative women who will address Mr. Wilson to impress anew upon him the importance of the national suffrage amendment.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Small Hostess Entertains Friends with Games and Dancing.
Little Miss Christine Sinclair Wyatt, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wyatt of No. 229 South Coronado street, was hostess to twenty-four small friends at a birthday celebration Saturday afternoon at the residence of her parents.

The decorations were in red, white and blue. Games were played from 4 to 6 o'clock and a tray supper being served during this time.

At 6 o'clock the little guests enjoyed a party of games and dancing. The favors were Japanese lanterns colored red, white and blue, for the little girls, and horses with the name color scheme for the boys. The 1916 hostess is one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt, having a brother, Harry L. Wyatt, and a sister, Elizabeth B. Wyatt.

At Our New Salesrooms 760 So. Olive Street
It is safe to say that no exhibits at the Exposition created greater enthusiasm or admiration than these. The Representatives of the different firms have received instructions not to reshuffle anything as they consider it unwise on account of the existing conditions abroad.

This is certainly an unprecedented opportunity. For few of us realize what an effect the great war will have on Art in Europe, and it may be impossible to again receive pieces as exhibited here. We have been ordered to sell to the highest bidder. Monday has been set aside for inspection and we heartily invite you to visit the display. We feel sure that all will concede that this collection is undeniably worthy of every sort of praise and commendation. Catalogues upon application.

Sale days Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, February 27th, 28th and March 1st, at 11 a. m. each day.

MAJ. HUTCHINS CHOSEN TO COMMAND SEVENTH.

Younger Element of Regiment Wins Victory in Naming Colonel.

MEETING in the regimental headquarters at Exposition Park, the field and line officers of the Seventh Regiment, N. yesterday morning elected Charles F. Hutchins, commanding the Second Battalion, to command the regiment, filling the post vacated by the late Col. W. G. Schreiber. Hutchins was chosen to lead the regiment by acclamation, following a caucus of the officers that disclosed he was a favorite over the other candidates, Lieut-Col. M. B. Salter and Lieut-Col. J. M. Salter.

Hutchins assumed immediate command of the regiment, reorganizing the staff and placing Lieut-Col. Salter in charge of the Second Battalion. No major was chosen to succeed Schreiber. Another meeting is held today, when this election will be held.

The election yesterday was a triumph for the younger element of the regiment. Out of 154 requests for a caucus, 124 were received. In one instance, an old man who was a friend of a young woman, the late Col. Schreiber, was asked to take the place of the young woman. The late Col. Schreiber was a friend of the young woman. The late Col. Schreiber was a friend of the young woman.

Chief Butler has been named as the new commander of the Seventh Regiment. He was chosen by the officers of the regiment. He was chosen by the officers of the regiment.

CHAIRMAN CASTS A BOMB INTO PACIFIST MEETING.

Presiding at Gathering of Peace Enthusiasts, Congressman-elect Osborne Makes Forthright Declaration for Preparedness and National Honor—Assault on Federal Officials Heeded Off.

CONGRESSMAN-ELECT H. Z. Osborne threw a bombshell into the pacifist meeting held at Shrine Auditorium last night when in the course of his address as chairman of the meeting he said: "I am not a peace-at-any-price man. I am for peace at a great price, allowing no merely technical or unimportant question to endanger it, and up to the point where national integrity and honor become involved. There I would stop, and move back no further. As one of the most important provisions for peace I believe in thorough national preparedness for war, with universal military training as a basis."

His statement created something of a sensation. Three thousand people heard it.

MAYOR GETS WIRELESS MESSAGE FROM NEW YORK

LOS ANGELES and New York were in wireless communication last evening, through their respective Mayors, in an effort to test out transcontinental wireless possibilities under unfavorable circumstances.

Mayor John P. Mitchell of New York wired Mayor Woodman as follows, the message being relayed here by the American Radio League: "To the Mayors of Los Angeles and Seattle, greetings: On behalf of New York City I send cordial greetings to Los Angeles and Seattle. Best wishes for the success of the radio system."

The message was relayed from New York to Davenport, Iowa; from Davenport to Denver and from the latter city to Los Angeles, a distance of 310 miles. Taking into account all delays, it required three hours and twenty minutes to get the message through. Because of the interference of local radio operators the message could not be sent to Seattle, and several radio operators will be interviewed by the Federal authorities because of this interference, it is stated.

The message was received by H. C. and L. F. Seefeld, No. 245 Fremont avenue. Last evening they started another message back to New York and hope to materially lessen the time in transmission. These efforts on the part of the American Radio League are receiving the attention of the government and are proving of great value to amateur operators.

The Seefeld brothers have a plant with a sending radius of 1000 miles, that under favorable conditions is double that. They can receive from 1000-mile radius, and have frequently picked up messages from the station at Koba, Japan. Local operators are constantly experimenting with transcontinental wireless, it being the hope of every experimenter to establish a system that will make possible the instant transmission of messages from coast to coast and overcome interference with the ether waves.

DROPS CHURCH FROM THE FOLD

University Nazarenes, Pasadena, are Read Out.

Formal Disorganization by the District Superintendent.

Members of Order to Form Independent Body.

The University Nazarene Church of the Nazarenes, at Pasadena, with about 400 members, and a brand-new church edifice, was wiped out of existence as an organized body yesterday by the formal action of the district superintendent, Rev. Howard Eckels.

The pronouncement was made by the district superintendent when the members gathered at the regular hour for public worship yesterday forenoon, in the chapel of the Nazarene University. This was the last day on which the church was privileged to use the chapel. It has been building its own church edifice, and has practically completed the structure, which is on the bungalow style.

Supr. Eckels read his letter to the church, in which he stated that conditions were "intolerable," and had so been for a long time; that he could see no way out of the troubles except by exercising his prerogative of disorganizing the body. He then declared the church disorganized.

MUCH EMOTION. Immediately after closing his letter, the district superintendent left the church. The congregation remained in stunned quietude for a few moments, and then there was an exciting time, in which there was much expression of emotion.

Members of the church may now apply to the district superintendent for letters of transfer to some other church of this denomination. But a peculiar question arises as to the status of the pastor, Rev. H. C. Rees. The discipline of the Nazarene Church of the Nazarenes requires that each pastor must be a member of the church which he serves. Unless Mr. Rees applies for a letter of admission to some other church of this denomination, it is probable that he will be considered as having forfeited his rights as a pastor.

For many months there has been constant trouble in the University Nazarene Church. Former charges were preferred against the pastor, and for several days a sentiment was held in the First Church of the Nazarenes in this city. The eventual result was that Pastor Rees was allowed to remain in charge of his flock, but it seems that the dove of peace refused to alight among them.

HARM TO UNIVERSITY. Officials of the church felt that great harm was being done to the Nazarene University. The church had used the university chapel for its place of worship since its organization, and the disorganization of the church would be a great loss to the university.

It was announced in Pasadena yesterday that the church body that had been disorganized by the Nazarene Church of the Nazarenes was continuing as an independent organization, with Rev. H. C. Rees as its pastor. The new edifice, members declared, will be dedicated next Sunday.

Officials of the Nazarene Church of the Nazarenes said last night that while the disorganized church had about 400 members it is not likely that even 100 of this number will join any independent movement.

THE FORMAL LETTER. The formal letter read by District Superintendent Eckels yesterday afternoon was as follows: "After much prayer and mature deliberation, I have come to the conclusion that the church body which was left to bring to a close the intolerable conditions which have obtained for the past year or more, and so close up a page in our history which has been marked by disunity, insubordination to constituted authority, and painful and demoralizing disturbance of that peace and unity of the spirit, which should always characterize the Church of Christ, and especially holiness people—is to be disorganized this local church."

"This burden I as superintendent have borne for months, and I cannot tell how much it grieves me to take this course. But it seems to me that this is the only solution of this problem, which has so perpetually confronted us, and the only hope I now can see for the peace of the church."

Therefore, by the authority vested in my office by the general assembly of our denomination—Manual, page 48, paragraph 11—I hereby declare this church body disorganized as a Nazarene Church of the Nazarenes."

THUMBS DOWN FOR ANIMALS.

Bolivia Takes Umbrage to Shipping of Live Stock Through Malis.

Bolivia, where revolutions bloom over night and no able-bodied citizen considers himself properly dressed unless he carries a machete at his belt, has asserted itself. According to a communication received yesterday by Postmaster Brown, the turbulent little South American republic will hereafter decline to receive live animals by parcel post from the United States, or anywhere else.

No little one, there is nothing in the communication to say what caused the promulgation of the portentous order. Perhaps in some thoughtless hour of unaccounted east a worthy citizen decided to evade the hide and hoof law of our own United States and shipped a cow to Bolivia and a goat in the Bolivian mails resulted. Or perhaps some Missouri mule that arrived by parcel post took exception to his sore recipient and a tumbler followed that nearly shook La Paz from its mountain throne.

SAY, YOU FILE THAT DIVORCE SUIT NOW.

CONGESTED CALENDAR MEANS LONG WAIT, OTHERWISE.

November Earliest Date Action Filed Now Can Be Heard in Local Courts—Many Prospective Litigants Take Cognizance of Fact and Speed up Lawyers.

The sign, "Divorce while you wait," would not be amiss in Department Thirteen of the Superior Court. The "wait," however, should be spelled with a capital "W." for the earliest date a divorce suit filed now can be tried, is November. Though November may seem a long way off, the old maxim, "the early bird catches the worm," is applicable just the same; also the one about "he who hesitates is lost," for soon cases will be set for December, and pretty soon will be lapping over into the next year.

The congested condition of the divorce calendar has had one good effect, for litigants are being lent a readier ear to compromise, lawyers, who see no money in holding suits, have been able to bring man and wife together to start the matrimonial voyage anew.

It is surprising how many divorce suits are filed where the couple are childless. These applicants, moreover, are generally the ones who fret over delay. The woman with children, if her husband is at all capable to support the family, is eager to have the court order all money so as to make payment sure, or willing to give her lord and master another try.

But there are many others who are in a hurry to shuffle off one tie, so that they may assume another, and they are the early birds the maxim applies to. It is said that hurry-up calls are pouring in on the lawyers to prepare the case and then in order to get a November date.

TRAGIC DRAMA OF THE RANGE.

Proof of a Brand Between Woman and Prison.

Remarkable Trial in Owens Valley this Week.

First Case of Kind Ever Known in Court.

The brand of Mrs. Leoto Wilson is raising Cain. It may lead to prison. Its owner is a dashing, daring, well-to-do Owens Valley woman. She is accused of being a horse thief, and pleading absolute innocence, will be brought to trial tomorrow at Independence.

This tragic drama of the range is expected to develop a thrilling legal battle, and will be watched by lawyers and laymen far and wide because no similar case has ever come up in so far as can be ascertained. The State claims it has positive evidence of guilt. The defendant is a fighter. It is doubtful whether a more keen-witted woman ever was in the prisoner's dock or on the witness stand in the Southwest, and the courtroom will be crowded with persons anticipating fireworks. She will be defended by Attorneys Claude Hogan and Himer Carlson of Bishop, and Dist. Atty. F. W. Forbes of Inyo county will prosecute. A. H. Swallow of Bishop has been retained by the cattle protective interests as special prosecutor.

Andrew Wilson, the woman's husband, filed the case. He was indicted by the Inyo county grand jury on the charge of having stolen four horses from J. C. Houghton in Esmeralda county, Nevada, and brought them into this State. Mrs. Wilson is alleged to have bought one of the stolen animals from her spouse, with knowledge of how he had obtained it, and her indictment followed. Then came a second indictment against her, one count charging her with having feloniously branded the animal, and another with having applied her own brand over that of Houghton with intent to steal and prevent identification.

Section 257, Penal Code of California, makes the latter offense punishable with a term of not less than one year or more than five years in the penitentiary, and that appears to be the crux of the case. Mrs. Wilson's defense is that she bought three horses, including the one now bearing her brand, from Joe Garcia, a Mexican, who owed her money for stock purchased from her; that she sold two of them and after a year and a half, when about to take all her horses to a distant range, she put her brand on the third and others as an ordinary procedure. She avers she did not even suspect the animals had been stolen. The branding was left to one of her sons, who declares there was only a scratch on the horse which is the storm center. And on the question whether it was a scratch or a brand Mrs. Wilson's fate probably hangs. If she can be held under Sec. 257 without having actually applied her brand with her own hands, or directed her son to place it over the other, which she avers she didn't. The jurors may have a look at the Garcia turned State's evidence and is held in jail as a witness. He doesn't "know" the horses at all. Wilson is also in jail in Independence and his trial is set for today. His wife put up bond for herself immediately upon indictment last fall, and left him behind the bars, but has arranged for her attorney to defend him. It is understood his purpose is to establish an alibi. Among other witnesses on either side in both cases are a number of Indians.

UNUSUAL WOMAN. Whether she be innocent or guilty Mrs. Wilson is concededly an unusual woman, a striking figure of the mighty out-of-doors West, who might prance before the camera as a movie thriller at a moment's notice. Still under 40, judging by appearance, she is the mother—and a "Inaugural Special" Carries Fifteen Angelenos.

Twenty-eight from the North Complete the Force.

This the Result of Big Plan that Went on Reef.

The much-heralded Democratic Inaugural Special, which was originally to have been composed of two trains and later of one, to accommodate a "vast" outpouring of Bourbon enthusiasts bent on attending the inaugural ceremonies at Washington, left Los Angeles yesterday morning at 5:30 o'clock with fifteen of the Los Angeles faithful aboard, including the three women Presidential electors, Misses W. C. Tyler, Mary M. Wiley and Virginia Spinks. In spite of the fact that at least fifty were expected from San Francisco, only twenty-eight were aboard to greet the corporate guard from this city.

Plans for the great "special," which culminated in the purchase of exactly forty-three round trip tickets for coach accommodations, were wrecked apparently by running into an open switch of social and political differences. The first reef encountered by the promoters of the expedition was when the question of an official chaperon arose. A number of the social leaders of the Bay City met and agreed that Mrs. E. L. Doherty was the proper person and an invitation was forthwith extended. It was rumored that Mr. Doherty would contribute $10,000 toward expenses. This Mr. Doherty denied.

Then it was discovered friends of Senator Phelan were insisting on a San Francisco woman for chaperon, and Miss Margaret McGovern was prominently mentioned, it being argued, that she would better represent certain Republican and labor-union interests that had supported Mr. Phelan. This new element widened the breach and for a time the whole idea was abandoned. It was, however, later revived by Postmaster Charles Fay and his close friends, but the social differences and political animosities that had been engendered were such that no great amount of enthusiasm could be reawakened and the plan dragged in spite of desperate efforts. Los Angeles was appealed to and telegrams, letters and telephone calls sped back and forth in an attempt to bridge the gap. Finally here, but it was all in vain. Only fifteen Angelenos and twenty-eight Bay City Bourbons have hied themselves to Washington.

The "special," so-called, will go over the Southern Pacific, L. & N. Railroad, W. P. Route, Southern Railroad and the Pennsylvania Railroad to New York. Stops will be made at El Paso, Houston, New Orleans, Atlanta, Richmond and Washington, after which the train will be continued to New York, where the members of the party may choose to return by any routes that suit their individual fancies.

OUTER, THEN JAIL.

Man Thrown Out of Poolroom Identified as Slasher.

Trouble started for A. H. Coughlin, No. 713 East Seventh street, in a poolroom at Seventh and Main streets yesterday morning. And when Mr. Coughlin woke up late last night he was in a cell in the City Jail.

Coughlin was thrown out of the poolroom and landed in the gutter. He was picked up by Sgt. Thorpe and sent to the Receiving Hospital to have a crash on his head treated. When he was about to leave there Victor Nelson of No. 214 West Tenth street appeared, with a knife wound in his back examined. Mr. Nelson identified Coughlin as his assailant, and the latter was locked up.

A Pictorial Call to Fashion's Host.

The colors of the springtime mode are illustrated in the poster, while the smart flaring lines of the black satin coat, with its varied silken linings are suggestive of the most alluring well-dressed women. The new drooping hat brings covers half the pretty face of the poster girl, and the parson of black and its band of white emerald green smoky and distinguished. Miss Bates has succeeded admirably in giving a suggestion of springtime fashions without in the least making her poster look like a fashion drawing. There is genuine art in the blending of colors, and she who would devise something new in the manner of color combinations will find many valuable ideas in the shading of this poster.

While the idea of the Fashion Show originates with the members of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association entirely, the other merchants of the shopping district cooperate so heartily in advertising the show, and in contributing to its success that the posters will probably be displayed in most of the windows of the business district today.

MOTHERHOOD WOMAN'S JOY
Suggestions to Childless Women.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the ability to correct sterility in the cases of many women. This fact is well established as evidenced by the following letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—"I want other women to know what a blessing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been to me. We had always wanted a baby and I was in poor health and not able to do my work. My mother and I had both urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, my health improved and I am now the mother of a fine baby girl and do all my own house work."

—Mrs. ALLIA R. TIMMONS, 216 Almond St., Poplar Bluff, Mo.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. It will be confidential and helpful.

Milady, attention!
Los Angeles' great semi-annual fashion show will open Thursday with a showing of the latest in things for those who would be well-dressed, and will continue through Friday.

States into an unrighteous war on the side of the Allies.

Following his remarks there was an atmosphere of tension. The resolutions were called for and it was only through the firmness of Chairman Osborne that a vote was deferred.

After the feeling the speaker's remarks occasioned had finally calmed down, Adolph Damsinger arose and made a very happy talk in which he apologized for the remarks of Mr. Engledrum and assured the audience they did not represent the sentiment of the men who were responsible for the calling of the meeting.

Max Socha spoke at length, his remarks being principally a plea for peace and a request that his hearers go on record in favor of resolutions for an embargo on foodstuffs and munitions and for the keeping of American ships out of the war zone. He also characterized the American who enters that zone as unpatriotic and commended William Jennings Bryan's stand on peace.

Others COMMENT.

Bonno Brink also addressed the meeting and deplored the remarks of Mr. Engledrum, which he stated did not express his sentiments and was sure were not what was in the mind of the people present. Chairman Osborne, in the course of comments on Mr. Engledrum's speech, stated the speaker's remarks were "interesting" with special emphasis on the word.

The meeting was opened by Felix Judge White, who introduced Chairman Osborne.

The singing section of the Turner Germania sang twice in German and Master Edward Quail, 7 years old, sang a song entitled, "You Don't Always Have to Fight to be a Hero."

A committee of five was appointed to draft resolutions which are to be forwarded to the President of the United States, the President of the House and the local Congressional Representative, expressing the sense of the meeting. This committee is as follows: Mr. Socha, Judge White, Mr. Engledrum, Mr. Damsinger and Mr. Brink. The committee will meet today.

good mother—of three sons and two daughters ranging in age from 4 to 11 years, four of them by a husband whom she divorced. She is a nurse and a dressmaker, but does neither. Above all she is a business woman, a manager. She was born in Iowa, but has lived in the Owens Valley since she was 19 years of age.

Near Bishop Mrs. Wilson owns two ranches aggregating 200 acres, and controls other range. She has fifty horses, any of which she can and does ride, for no more fearless horsewoman ever wore spurs. She is an expert with lasso and gun and can rope and throw a steer with the best of them or "bust" any bucking bronco that ever came prancing down the line—and she does. Every day she spends hours in the saddle, for she looks after her own stock and thinks nothing of a fifty-mile ride. She has had large bunches of cattle and flocks of sheep, and now handles many hogs.

When the Nevada-California Power Company built its 150-mile line from Bishop Creek to Round Mountain, Nev., some years ago, Mrs. Wilson's many teams did much of the pole bringing over the entire distance and she was on hand personally directing operations with such assurance that it became a sort of clock work performance and demonstrated her marked executive ability. There she made the money that gave her a start.

Notwithstanding her varied activities—she is always in a hurry—and her hard, rough life, she finds time for books. She is educated and a bright conversationalist.

NOON LENTEN SERVICE.

Rector of St. Luke's Parish to Speak on "Christ and the Doctrine of Necessity" at Spirited Half-hour Meeting in Pro-Cathedral Today.

Rev. Robert L. Windsor, rector of St. Luke's Church, will be the speaker at the noon meeting today in St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, Olive street, opposite Central Park. This series of noon Lenten meetings, being held under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, are for busy business and professional people, and the public at large. They open promptly at 12:05 o'clock and close promptly at 12:30 o'clock.

The speaker today will deal with his subject from the standpoint of a manly Christian. He is a vigorous and polished speaker, with a keen sense of humor. Rector Windsor was responsible for the building of his parish church, and has consistently refused to leave his chosen field of work, although he has had several calls to large and wealthy parishes. In connection with his parish work he has been active in civic affairs. He will deliver the addresses at each of the noonday services at St. Paul's this week.

His subjects for the week are as follows: Tomorrow, "Christ and the Word"; Wednesday, "Human Perfection"; Thursday, "The Day's Work"; Friday, "Everyman's Life"; Saturday, "The Final Issue."

DRAMA.

Morocco.
PROVES VERSATILITY.

BERTHA MANN IS CLEVER IN
"PAIR OF QUEENS."

By Henry Christien Warnack.

For several seasons we have had a week or two of laughter over "A Pair of Queens," and now we are asked to smile upon "A Pair of Queens" at the Morocco this week. To smile at one queen is easy enough, but to smile at them in another proposition. Mixing queens is as bad as mixing drinks, one going to the head and the other to the pocketbook, by way of the heart. Some times it goes to the divorce court, which is not comfortable on account of the children.

You will note that I am smiling for an opening. One does not know exactly what to think of "A Pair of Queens" because it is not the kind of play. It was written by three men and a play with that many authors is likely to get itself confused.

Like all modern plays it starts with a maid at a telephone booth, but for once the maid is not allowed to tell us what it is all about, and nobody else in the three acts ever makes the plot completely clear.

It is not a case of the audience being in on the secret of the author and only the actors being in the dark. Probably the three authors failed to confide in one another the full extent of their criminal intentions. At the first performance the play labored under an additional handicap and it was true. Miss Mann, Mann, as the maid, and Richard Dix as the boob plainclothes man were not so funny the rest of the cast could not get laughing at them. The metamorphosis of each was complete.

SUMMERGERS SELF IN PART. Miss Mann so entirely submerged her personality in the character of the slavey that her best friends could not have recognized her without the aid of the programme. In such a part she would need two or three detectives around her to prove her identity. She is certainly as versatile as she is charming, and while this is not the sort of part one would prefer to see her take, probably no one in the world could portray it better. There is nothing original in the way the authors treated the role, but Miss Mann gets a great deal from it.

At some time in his existence every playwright should be taken out and introduced to a maid. Not one of them has ever yet given proof of having had one under personal observation. As near as I could ascertain from watching the performance and talking with the audience this play is probably about some stolen bills from the Treasury Department which were subsequently forged and which were being trailed by a girl who was serving the government as a special agent.

LEAD A MYSTERY. Nobody in the play, or in the audience seems to have been able to discover who is the lead. It is either the maid, the secret service agent, one of the two suspected men, the wife of one of the suspects, the local male detective, his assistant, the sergeant of police or the maid's beau. All of them acted with the confidence and vociferousness of the leading role, and there is nothing in the way the play is built that would accuse them of presumption. The place is vague, but humorous and well acted. For a thing without beginning or ending it manages to have a great deal of laughter. It has no merit beyond being amusing, which is perhaps all that a comedy really strives for.

GLAD RAGS TABU.

POOR WORKING GIRL HAS HARD INNOVATIONS IN FILMS.

By Grace Kingsley.

Avant, the drama is duds, this week! All hail to the simple tops of the working girl. There isn't a fashion show among all the pictures I viewed yesterday. The comedy of clothes, the tragedy of talm, is in abundance. Not one of the heroines yesterday wore glad rags even for a minute, except Frances Nelson, and even she re-pent right way and takes them off. The Garrick, the Superba, the Symphony, Clune's Broadway, the American, all exploit the poor working girl, and the modiste can go hang for all of Dorothy Gish, Florence La Badie and the rest.

Heaven, however, appears this week to be laying off the job of protecting the working girl with the result that all the heroines at the above named theaters are having a mighty tough time of it. Nevertheless, they appear abundantly able to take care of themselves and allow heaven to take a vacation, since all come out jauntily triumphant in the last foot of film.

Superba. A capital comedy drama—one which crackles and sparkles with deep plot, swift action and absorbing character study, is "Her Life and His," current attraction at the Superba. Florence La Badie is the heroine. Why speak of Miss La Badie's beauty? For one thing it isn't always there. But she has brains, sincerity and a vivacious expressive face, and these register even more effectively than mere beauty. Besides she's pretty enough for all practical purposes.

While the long arm of coincidence may be said to be yanked rather far than usual in the scene in which the girl, just released from prison, views through the window the man who wronged her, she appears abundantly able to take care of herself and allow heaven to take a vacation, since all come out jauntily triumphant in the last foot of film.

Clune's Broadway. Amusing enough is Dorothy Gish's latest vehicle, "Stage Struck," showing at Clune's Broadway. Because of its humanness, its good-natured satire on human nature, several superlatives are applicable, and the very excellent way in which it is played, "Stage Struck," by Roy Somerville, takes its place among the really good features of the week. It has faults for one thing, sufficient advantage is not taken of the comedy opportunities offered by the running of a fake dramatic school, also some of the multiple scenes, without being witty—yet the impression of having been genuinely amused remains with one, besides the feeling of having taken a whack at a certain class of actors. And what more can one ask?

A keen bit of satire shows the lady president of the Uplift Home working energetically for the marriage of the unknown young man in the case to the actress—until she finds out he is her own son. Several of the subtitles remain in one's mind. "How," says one of the stage-and-poverty-stricken maidens, "could she be Juliet on 18 cent stock?"

Dorothy Gish brings all the Gishy tricks to bear on the role of the jittery Juliet. As these tricks are amusing, she gets away with the part in fine style. Carmel Myers, the stenographer, shows herself to be a girl of rare talent, brains and beauty, and Frank Benson, who is seen to warrant their friend, explains to mama about his marriage, says another, "but she was too busy with her husband."

The heroine repents and goes to work, but at her old job of making trunks, No, sir-ee, she gets a job in a cabaret. Here she meets a nice boy, who marries her, only to find it was his dad who had been her four feet. But son forgives and all ends happily.

Frances Nelson has much dramatic strength and sincerity, and plays her role with convincingness. Richard Dix (who is now playing at the Morocco) is a clever and really fascinating villain, and the rest of the cast, including Niles Welch and others, also are far above the ordinary.

There are two episodes in "I May Be Your Daughter." Both of these are highly sensational and dramatic. In the one case a girl is thrown out of the house by an unreasonably irate father because she has been innocently spending the evening at Coney Island with a chauffeur, whereupon she runs back to said chauffeur's arms and thence on to the gutter. In the other, the girl is kidnapped by white-slavers and taken to a house of ill-fame, from whence she is rescued by Girl No. 1, who was an old school friend of hers.

Tonight will occur the formal opening of the new season at the Mason Opera house. The occasion will serve to introduce to Los Angeles the new season of the company, which is headed by Max Marcini's play, "The House of Glass." This play created uncommon interest in New York, not only because of its intrinsic dramatic quality, but on account also of its several distinctive novel stunts in dramatic construction and stage craftsmanship. In this latter respect it is sometimes compared to "On Trial."

A notable cast will present the play, including Adeline O'Connor, Robert Montgomery, Charles Regel, Dwight Mead, Amelia Meyer, Sonia Jasper, Martin Laskin, William T. Hay and Louise Laskin.

Burbank. The third week of "Hello Hawaii" will be ushered in tonight at the Burbank. This tenuous musical comedy with its spectacular setting, its unique costumes or lack of them, its pretty girls, its distinctively alluring Hawaiian flavor, has been meeting with tremendous success.

The cast is an exceedingly effective.

at the root of the prostitute business. However, the picture screen is not the place for dry statistical parade; it is no agent of peccadilloes; but is supposed to epitomize certain phases of life in a dramatic manner. With this view of the affair in mind, "I May Be Your Daughter" squares with all the requirements.

TAKES PRECAUTION.

Harbor Warehouse Company Gets Authority from State Railroad Commission to Issue Stocks and Note—Status as Utility is Uncertain.

Word was received from San Francisco yesterday that the State Railroad Commission has granted authority to the Los Angeles Harbor Warehouse Company to issue 568 shares of its capital stock of a par value of $100 a share, and promissory notes for $33,000, the latter being secured by a mortgage upon its properties. The stock is to be placed with the Harbor Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles for three years at 6 per cent. The same proceeds are to refund existing note indebtedness.

The company owns two warehouses at Wilmington, one of concrete and the other of brick. Both of them are leased at good rentals. They were built at a total cost of $12,744, and the funds were raised by the issue of stock and notes of the amount authorized today.

The company has not considered itself a public utility, but in order that it may remove any cloud of illegality from its securities, it petitioned the Railroad Commission for authority to issue new stock and notes.

FOR AVIATION FIELD.

Federal Official Considers Abstract as Government Preparation to Take over Site at San Diego as Headquarters for Flyers. Lighthouse Planned.

United States District Attorney Schooner yesterday began preparing the abstract of the land recently purchased by the United States at San Diego, for headquarters of the aviation service on the Pacific Coast. The land consists of 237 acres, lying on what is known as Dutch Flat, at the north end of San Diego Bay, and an appropriation of $150,000 has just been made by Congress. The property has been purchased of the San Diego Securities Company. With the completion of the abstract of the title to the land will pass to the government.

Dist. Atty. Schooner is making also the abstract of the land recently purchased at Point Vicente between Point Vicente and Redondo Beach, for a lighthouse station. But a small area is involved in the transfer. The proposed lighthouse will be for the benefit of south-bound mariners who are unable to see the light at the end of the San Pedro breakwater.
